NEW SR600K ROUTE

Location: White Mountain, California
Details: Jay on her early season attempted pre-ride in February on White Mountain.

Jay Nadeau (#10004) with the San Francisco Randonneurs shared her new SR600k route that has been approved.

This "hill festival" features classics of the Eastern Sierra and traverses 374 miles with 34,228 feet of elevation gain.

Jay shares, "This is a route that visits many of the famous climbs in the Eastern Sierra, including White Mountain, Onion Valley (skipping those last brutal switchbacks), Aspendell, Glacier Lodge, and Waucoba Saline Road on the way to Death Valley. Roads are quiet and remote, often with no cars seen for hours. Riders have the option of starting from Deep Springs College or from the town of Bishop. Snow levels determine the rideability of the route,

- Dave Thompson (#4226) is eligible for re-election and has decided not to run again.
- Noah Swartz (#13453) is concluding the first year of his term and will be relocating. As a result, he will be unable to continue his full term.

NOTE: The candidates with the two highest vote counts in the election will have 3-year terms. The candidate with the third highest will be assuming the rest of Noah's 2-year term.

with White Mountain often closed until May, though conditions vary from year to year. Small towns along Hwy 395 provide resupply, with visits to Big Pine, Bishop, Independence, and Mammoth Lakes. The scenery is spectacular and the sustained climbs are some of the best in the world."
